WASHINGTON, July 29.—Backed against the wall by a powerful, smooth-working bi-partisan coalition, disorganized Democratic senate forces rallied wearily today to drive remaining fragments of President Roosevelt's lending legislation toward passage.

Little more than a shell of the original four billion dollar pump-priming scheme remained as the senate convened at 11 a. m. to resume debate. With administration supporters prepared to resist further efforts to dismember the bill.

The bill today carried total authorizations of but $1,640,000,000 for the lending program. It came to senate totaling $2,490,000,000. And it must run an imposing gauntlet of nearly a score of amendments

Airplanes flying over New Castle have become so common of late that we no longer strain our necks to see them. Good results are already noticeable in shorter necks and lower collars. It seems but a short time since the first plane flew into this city and landed in the Mahoningtown district. Hundreds of citizens went to see it and marveled that a thing so heavy could stay up in the air. Since then we have witnessed great advances in airplanes and the art of flying. It used to cost five or ten dollars for a ride, now one or two. In other words, the cost of going up is coming down.

In the floral world just now sweet peas are in the public eye. They come in such a variety of colors, tints and shades, that it takes a real artist to name them. They have a fragrance, too, that is seductive; not so subtle as the rose, but a perfume that tickles your nose, and makes it long for another whiff. If Pa New were a fairy, browsing around for a garden of loveliness, we know of no more enticing roost than a setting of sweet peas.

Have you been a berrying yet? Out in the country districts blackberries are ripe, and wherever there are bushes you will find them laden. There is a lot of fun in picking blackberries, and also a bit of skill. It takes a clever picker to get a bucketful without being scratched. We have never been able to quite figure out why blackberry bushes should be armed, but we suppose it is for the same reason that we find thorns among roses. Anyway what's a few scratches to a good blackberry pie?

Scarcely had the masons quit troweling down a new cement walk at the court house, when some unknown person, thirsting for fame, took a stick and scratched his initials in the cement.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Somewhere off the placid expanse of the Virginia capes today, President Roosevelt was weighing three possible moves involving delicate political considerations, no matter which of three he ultimately chooses.

As he cruised over the week-end aboard the White House yacht Potomac, the president gave further study to the Hatch bill designed to prevent "pernicious political activities" among federal employees.

The measure as laid on the president's desk is regarded by New Dealers as seriously hamstringing their national organization for 1940, although Mr. Roosevelt has stated several times he is absolutely in favor of its objectives.

TOKYO, July 29.—The Japanese press today accorded wide prominence to announcement of a new commercial treaty between Japan and Germany as a measure counteracting President Roosevelt's denunciation of the 1911 Japanese American agreement.

The new accord, signed in Berlin, yesterday, will increase the volume of trade between Japan and Manchukuo on one side and Germany on the other. The influential newspaper Asahi predicted that Japan would make heavy new purchases of machinery, iron, steel and other materials needed for Japanese industrial expansion.

Strengthened Axis

Newspaper comment emphasized that the new treaty would inevitably strengthen Japan's association with the Rome-Berlin axis. Official and press reaction to American abrogation of the 1911 amity treaty was confined today to assurances Japan can hold its own in any economic war with the United States that may eventuate.

Otherwise Japanese puzzlement over the import and possible repercussions in Anglo-Japanese and Japanese-American relations of the Washington move continued.

Britain's Policy Firmer

Some sources thought Britain's policy would now become firmer, or at least less inclined to be amendable to Japanese pressure in the far East.

Others openly expressed fears that that America's motives were not "economic" but "political" and that relations between Washington and Tokyo were headed for rapid deterioration.

All comment, however, was kept under wraps. It was obvious that

NEW ORLEANS, July 29.—A ban on news and radio publicity concerning persons summoned before the federal grand jury in New Orleans today had the effect of emphasizing the secrecy enveloping the many-sided investigation of Louisiana's sensational political graft scandal.

The scandal was touched off a month ago by the arrest of Dr. James Monroe Smith, resigned president of Louisiana State university, who is in jail under indictment charging him with the embezzlement of $100,000 in L. S. U. funds.

Since Dr. Smith's arrest there has been a flurry of official action, state and federal, with the result that 16 persons have been indicted and arrested on graft charges, two grand juries have been in almost continuous session, 50 or more federal agents have swooped into Louisiana digging up evidence and a number of politicians holding state offices resigned, or were fired.

But now comes a federal ruling which forbids the press and radio from making public the names of those who are being summoned before the federal grand jury meeting in New Orleans. No such ban, however, has been imposed in the case of the East Baton Rouge (state) grand jury which is in session at Baton Rouge.

PITTSBURGH, July 29.—Despite a possible legal hitch in the liquor control act, Allegheny county authorities indicated today local option elections will be held in their county as scheduled.

The legal obstacle, according to state authorities, was a section of the act of 1937 which some interpret to require 60 days to elapse between the primary election at which a wet-dry vote is taken and the following municipal election. Interpretation of the section, however, varies, it was disclosed.

Only 57 days intervene between the primaries, September 12, and the municipal election, November 7. David Olbum, director of the county department of elections, said: "Our interpretation of the act is that the 60 days referred to must elapse between the time petitions are filed with the county commissioners and the date of the primary election."

The accident reportedly occurred when the automobile in which Brenckle and Kuhn were riding tried to pass the Dietrich machine.

Rains Relieve Drought
In Northeastern States

(International News Service)

Forecasts of another day of rain gave rise to hopes today that the grip of the searing drought which has held the 10 northeastern states in its grasp since the beginning of July will be definitely broken before the month has ended.

Rains which fell over the area Thursday night and Friday, while generally relieving the situation, were far from sufficient to end the drought, it was conceded by farm experts.

The rains were at least a "life preserver" if not a "life saver," the New Jersey agricultural department reported.

The precipitation ranged from a fraction of an inch here and there to a substantial fall of 3.68 inches at Albany, N. Y.

Another two or three days of steady rain, sufficient to moisten the earth for a depth of at least two feet, was still the crying need of farmers, agricultural experts said. Meanwhile, indications grew that Several persons were injured at 12:50 a. m. today at South Mill and Home streets when the aerial ladder truck of the city fire department and an automobile collided. The motor equipment was damaged.

The injured Harry Colley, driver of the aerial ladder truck, middle fingers of left hand cut; treated at New Castle hospital.

Richard L. Cochran, R. D. 2, operator of auto; bruises on forehead and legs.

Miss Margaretta Lewis, 405 Waldo street, passenger in Cochran's auto; laceration of forehead and shock.

According to Colley's report to city police, who conveyed the injured to the hospital, he was the operator of the aerial ladder truck, and Frank Sargent was the tiller man, en route to answer an alarm from Long and Pollock avenues.

Making Turn

The truck proceeded through Home street and was turning right into South Mill street, when the auto, driven by Cochran, was bound south on South Mill street, ran into the aerial ladder truck. Colley endeavored to avoid the crash, he said, and the truck struck and knocked down a pole at the southeast corner of South Mill and Home streets, the pole falling over onto the seat of the truck. Colley narrowly escaped being pinned under the pole. Frank Sargent was tiller man at the rear of the aerial truck, and escaped injury.

According to Colley, the rain was coming down in torrents at the time of the collision and it was difficult to see more than a few feet ahead.

ROCHESTER, Minn., July 29.—The famed Mayo Clinic will live on as though its founders were still alive to guide it, according to an announcement today as funeral arrangements were made for Dr. William James Mayo, last of the "Mayo Boys."

Dr. "Will" as he was familiarly known, died early yesterday at the age of 79, just two months after the death of his younger brother Dr. Charles H. Mayo, who was 73. Strangely enough, Dr. Will succumbed to a sub-acute perforated ulcer, in the treatment of which he had gained wide fame as a surgeon. The death of Dr. Charles, however, was believed to have hampered his recovery.

While a public funeral was planned for the second of the brothers who transformed this dairy town into a world renowned medical center, it was revealed their clinic would continue under a board of seven governors established when the two retired about five years ago.

Young Republicans See Fall Victory

Conference At Conneaut Lake

State Chairman And Other Party Leaders Discuss Party Outlook

WOMAN CANDIDATE ADDRESSES SESSION

(International News Service)
CONNELLY LAKE, Pa., July 28.—Recognition for their group and prediction of a general GOP victory in the fall elections was given today to Western Pennsylvania Young Republicans meeting here in a 30-county conference.

The keynote was sounded by state Republican Chairman James F. Torrance, who assured delegates to this lake resort convention that the party's candidates would be "winning" throughout the state, and place Republican judges upon the superior and supreme court benches.

He praised the "cooperation" of the Young Republican group, adding:

"This has not always been the case, and I want to assure you that the state committee appreciated this situation and will do everything in its power to maintain it."

Middle Of Road Policy

His reference was interpreted as a reply to criticism in some quarters of the James administration patronage policy. Earlier, Frank C. Hilton, state Young Republican president, told his fellow delegates they must strive for a "middle of the road policy" and pointed out that while they had been "patient," they "are not tethered to a post."

"What we need and what we want," said Hilton, "is a middle of the road policy that will not topple on the reactionary side, nor will it tumble over a crack-pot fence."

He warned that "we no longer sit by the sidelines, nor do we wait for help. We act."

Judges Sara M. Soffel of Pittsburgh and Marion D. Patterson of Blair county, both candidates for the GOP nomination for state supreme court, also addressed the delegates.

Judge Soffel pleaded for "fairness" in placing a woman on the appellate court bench as "women are half the voters and pay half the taxes, yet we have never had a representative on the supreme or superior courts."

Most important to the party, held Judge Patterson "is to win the fall elections."

"If it doesn't," he warned, "1940 is extremely doubtful."

Patterson said he had the inside track for GOP organization support in the supreme court race. Judge Soffel also seeks nomination on the Democratic ticket.

LENDING PROGRAM BADLY SHATTERED BY SENATE ACTION

further narrowing its scope and reducing its monetary limits before a final vote tonight.

Senate Democratic leader Barkley of Kentucky carried the brunt of the administration fighting, and tried futilely to secure an agreement that would limit further debate and assure speedy final action.

First Republicans demanded concessions before making such an agreement, and then when Barkley made them, Senator Holt (D) West Virginia collapsed these negotiations with an objection.

Miserable Bill

The Republicans rallied against "this miserable bill" as the fighting neared the crucial stage, and jubilantly predicted the conservative Democrats who have voted with them in enacting the legislation would stick to the last to virtually wreck the program. If roll calls up to now are significant, this coalition seemed powerful enough to do nearly anything except defeat the bill on a final vote. Democratic leaders claimed sufficient votes finally to send the bill up measure to the house.

The claim was not denied. Trouble awaits the legislation if it reaches the house, although the successful senate sniping forces was rapidly reducing the measure to a stage where it might be accepted as innocuous by the lower branch.

Plans Changed

Major reductions effected by a rebellious senate eliminated entirely the $500,000,000 of authorizations for highway loans and the $350,000,000 for railroads in the bill.

Barkley had planned to hold the senate in continuous session to complete action on the bill but the opposition was so strong he decided to recess. Republican opponents chided the Democratic side frequently for its lack of oratorical support of their leader.

As the senate went back to work this morning, the lending bill provided the following, with amendments pending for elimination of each category:

- $350,000,000 for public works loans.
- $500,000,000 for rural electrification.
- $600,000,000 for farm tenant and Bankhead-Jones Act loans.
- $100,000,000 for foreign loans through the export-import bank.
- $90,000,000 for reclamation projects.

FRANCE SEEKS TO HALT COUNTRY'S BIRTH DECLINE

discussed by the cabinet yesterday, were to be approved in a ministerial session today.

Among other things, the new laws provided:

- 1—Drastic curbing of illegal operations, alcoholism and pornography.
- 2—Government subsidies for establishment of young peasants on farms, with land grants provided for those who remain on the property for 15 years.
- 3—Subsidies for so-called "fire-side mothers," or mothers who do not engage in work outside the home.
- 4—Bounties of from $50 to $80 for a first child and additional prizes for every further child born thereafter under the more babies drive.
- 5—Special taxes against spinsters, bachelors or childless couples which cannot show proof of physical inability to have children. This money will go to support the government baby campaign.

Daladier's government was the first to come to grips with the serious problem of the birthrate decline which at the present rate would have reduced the population of France from 42 millions to 35 millions by 1980.

The year 1938 was one of the worst in the downward progress of the birth rate with 34,741 more deaths than births recorded.

Also 3,300 fewer marriages were registered for the first three months of 1939 than in 1938.

German and Italian birth rates, according to Berlin and Rome figures, have shown a steady inclination upward with one million and a half more births than deaths in the Reich and one million more births than deaths in Fascist Italy during 1938.

Complete control of French radio facilities, in a move designed to halt propaganda by proportionate government censorship, was authorized in one of the series of new decrees.

LONDON, July 29.—Police leaves were cancelled today as Scotland Yard intensified the roundup and arrests for deportation of Irish Republican army members.

Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare was kept busy signing batches of new deportation orders for prisoners taken in raids that continued through the night and day.

Trains leaving for Ireland were jammed with hundreds who hurried to get out of England before police rapped at their doors and investigations into their private lives begun.

Definite figures were not yet available but it was understood Scotland Yard had rounded up several score in the vigorous night raids on known or suspected I. R. A. hangouts.

The arrests and deportations were possible under the new prevention of violence law speedily enacted following the latest of a series of bombings attributed to Irish Republican army terrorists.

Legion Band To Start Drills For State Convention

Cadet Band Of Perry S. Gaston Post Prepares For Coming Competition

Intensive drill will be started on Monday evening at 6:45 o'clock in the Ben Franklin stadium in preparation for the competition at the annual state convention of the American Legion convention of the Perry S. Gaston post's band.

The drills will be behind closed doors, so that the boys will not be hampered by any outside influences and they will be able to concentrate on the drills and their playing.

National champions for two successive years, the band was tied for state honors last year with two other bands, and the boys are going to try to make their victory over other bands this year a decisive matter.

The band will leave here on Thursday night, August 10.

W. And J. Alummi Select Meermans For Scholarship

Robert S. Meermans, 506 East Winter avenue, youngest son of General Secretary Robert L. Meermans of the Y. M. C. A. and Mrs. Meermans, today had been awarded a four-year scholarship to Washington and Jefferson college by the W. and J. Alummi of Lawrence county.

Meermans was chosen by an alumni committee composed of Attorneys Robert McK. White and Clarence A. Patterson and O. P. Brown. Selection was on a combined scholarship and character basis. He will enter the school in the fall to prepare for a teaching career.

The scholarship is worth $200 for four years, or a total of $800.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

The hare can outrun the turtle, but the turtle lives longer.

Many business men live at a fast pace.

The spirit of competition urges them on.

Many men die in the prime of life of heart trouble.

They do not have the faculty of relaxing.

When they exercise, they exhaust themselves.

On vacation, they drive their cars fast and far.

They try to climb the highest mountain.

Better had they remained at home—in a hammock.

Then they could have a few more hours of sleep at night.

A leisurely game of golf is a good mental restorative.

Earn a few less dollars—and a few more years.

itials in the newly laid walk. Some people seem to take delight in cutting their initials on trees, chiseling them in rocks, or writing them on the walls of buildings. Possibly they imagine that there's something in a name after all, but observation leads us to believe that it depends very much upon who owns the name. At the great natural bridge in Virginia our attention was called to the initials "G. W." chiseled on the rock about six feet above the turbulent stream that rushes through the gorge underneath the arch. Our guide said it was the handiwork of George Washington, but few who scribble their initials in public places ever have them explained to posterity.

It doesn't seem to matter how much we admonish children against running out into the street from behind parked cars, they still persist in doing it. During the past few days Pa Newc has witnessed a half dozen cases where children have had narrow escapes. Children become absorbed in play to such an extent that they forget words of caution. There is not much that parents can do about it, except to impress it upon the minds of their offspring continually. Ordinarily most children are cautious when alone, but it is while at play that they forget.

from the clouds, and one from a garden hose? You can water daily with a hose, but unless you anchor it on the lawn, and keep a whirling spray going constantly, it has little effect. But when old Jupiter Pluvius tilts his sprinkling can, as he did recently, the grass perks up almost instantly. Nature seems to know what is best for her, even if she hasn't had a college education.

What was it Shakespeare wrote? "Time is out of joint..." It certainly was this morning. Just after 8 o'clock the sky became black as night and automobiles had to find their ways along the downtown streets with headlights aglow. The darkness lasted for some little time; it must have set back the egg production in Lawrence county considerably.

SECTION E EVENT AT STURDEVANT HOME

Mrs. Fred Sturdevant of Garfield avenue was a most gracious hostess Friday evening to members of Section E of the Y. L. B. class of the Third United Presbyterian church, at her residence, when she entertained informally at an informal lawn dinner party.

The banquet tables, attractively arranged on the lawn, marked places for twenty-four guests, including husbands of the women, Rev. and Mrs. Chester T. R. Yeates and Mrs. Carrie McClain, who shared as special visitors.

A delicious full course menu was served by the hostess, with her daughters, Mrs. Eva McClymonds, Grace Houk, and Anna Mehler and Cora Mersheimer, assisting. Informal pastimes held away afterwards.

The next assembly will be in the nature of a breakfast at 8 o'clock, on Thursday, August 10. It will be held in the grove of Cascade Park.

W. W. M. G. CLASS PARTY FOR BRIDE AND GROOM

A surprise shower was tendered a recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ramsey, nee Ella Bailey, on Friday evening by members of the W. W. M. G. class of the Third U. P. church, when they gathered as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Plummer Gibson, Adams street.

The newlyweds, upon being invited to the Gibson home for a supposedly quiet evening, were overwhelmed when their class associates invaded to share the leisure hours.

Games and contests were avenues of pastime, and when the telegram contest was in progress, Mrs. Ramsey was handed the following message: "Will recent married folks find box at door. Signed—The Class." Upon carrying out instructions, a shower of lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature was discovered for use in their home.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the entertainment, with Mrs. Earl McConnell and Mrs. Howard King, aides.

Plans are being rounded out for a swimming party featured with a hamburger fry, on Tuesday, August 1. The event will be held at the Community park in New Wilmington.

Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Eben Reid of Rock Hill S. C., who are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lewis McConaghy, Norwood avenue, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McNickle, Euclid avenue, Friday evening. A pleasant informal time was enjoyed by the group.

CONWAY-EDMUNDS WEDDING FRIDAY

A quiet but impressive ceremony took place Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the First Congregational church on East Reynolds street when Mary Conway, daughter of Mrs. Richard Griffiths of Electric street, became the bride of Charles Edmunds, son of Mrs. Mary Edmunds of North Mercer street. They were united in marriage by the Rev. Rees T. Williams, pastor, who officiated with the single ring service.

The bride was lovely in a street length dress of rose lace with white accessories and her corsage was of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Russell McGill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and her only attendant. She wore a street length dress of powder blue chiffon with white accessories and tearos formed her corsage. Russell McGill served the groom as best man.

B. P. W. WOMEN HAVE PICNIC AT COTTAGE

Twenty-three attended the Business and Professional Women's club picnic which took place at the club-owned cottage, Lakewood, on Friday evening. A delicious dinner was served the group, after which the hours were spent informally.

Informal talks were given about the national convention held in Kansas City, by those who attended. They were the Misses Genevieve Riddle, Florence Davis and Evelyn Spencer.

Those on the committee in charge of the event were Mrs. Hazel Boyd, chairman, Helen Hinkson and Bess Gailey.

The club will meet again some time in August.

ANOTHER SOCIAL FOR WASHINGTON, PA., GUEST

Mrs. Sarah Long of Washington, Pa., who is visiting in this city, was again honored at a social gathering Friday evening in the Walnut street home of Mrs. Beryl Daugherty, who entertained a gathering of guests.

The time was spent enjoyably with quilting and afterwards, a very delicious lunch was served by the hostess with Mrs. Harry Baxter aiding. The latter was winner of the door prize during the evening.

A special gift was presented to Mrs. Long as the concluding feature. She will remain here until August 6, when she will return to her home.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS HOLDS OUTING FRIDAY

Friday evening, 116 persons attended the corn and wiener roast, held by the Men's Bible Class, of the First Baptist church, in which they were joined by their families. The affair took place at Bert Coates' grove on the Youngstown road.

After the corn and wiener feast was over a number of popular songs and hymns were rendered by a male quartet composed of Bob Strickler, Dan Peterson, Llewellyn Preston, and Arthur Rees, who were occasionally assisted by Lawrence Hildebrand and treasurer Loran W. Houk. Bert Coates gave a welcome talk during the evening, and a short address was made by R. L. Hildebrand, president of the class. Tad Kiker recited a poem, "Uncle Ike's Comment on the Parson's Sermon."

The social committee was, Jesse McCommon, Harry Irwin, Norbert Ubbey, L. W. Houk, Elmer Brown, and Bruce Love. Transportation, Thomas Arthrel, Table preparations, Bert Coates and sons.

ALOE-GORGAS WEDDING TODAY AT BEAVER FALLS

In an impressive ceremony performed this morning at 9 o'clock in the chapel of the Providence hospital, Beaver Falls, Egida Alda (Judy) Aloe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Aloe of West Pittsburg, was united in marriage to Joseph Alexander Gorgas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gorgas of Wampum R. D. 1.

Rev. Father Dennis Boyle officiated, reading the single ring ceremony.

For her marriage the bride wore a gown of white marquisette, toe length, with a shoulder length veil and crown of gardenias. She carried a small prayer book, with attached streamers. She had as maid of honor for the ceremony, Dorothy Winter of West Pittsburg, who wore a pink net gown with a matching shoulder corsage.

Philip Hergenrother of Wampum served the groom as best man.

Following the bridal party was served a wedding breakfast at the General Broadhead hotel in Beaver Falls. A reception was held in the bride's home from 2 to 4 o'clock, where friends and relatives were greeted.

Late this afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Gorgas plan to leave on a motor trip to New York and the New England states. Upon returning, they will reside at 517 Spring avenue, Ellwood City in their newly furnished apartment.

Mrs. Gorgas graduated from the New Castle high school in the class of 1934 and her husband graduated from the Wampum high school in the class of 1935. Mr. Gorgas is affiliated with the Shelby Tube company at Ellwood City.

SENIOR GUILD PICNIC EVENT HELD AT COTTAGE

Members of the Senior Guild of St. Andrew's Episcopal church were guests of Mrs. Ada Cole and Mrs. Virginia Morrissey at their cottage at Lakewood, Thursday evening. A delicious supper was served at 6 o'clock after which a short meeting was held, followed by a social evening.

Nellie M. Brady Is Bride Of Edward K. Marvin Today

The dignity and grace of the altar in Highland United Presbyterian church, with chancel almost hidden entirely with choice array of flowers, ferns, and graceful palms in artistic arrangement, and set off in the glow of lighted stately Cathedral candles in three branching candelabra, one at either side and one in the center, was further enhanced by shadows of light, which shone through the stained glass windows, and provided a charming setting for the wedding this morning, of Nellie M. Brady, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Brady, 135 Mills Way and Edward Karl Marvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marvin, 122 Garfield avenue. It marked one of the important nuptial events of the season, due to the popularity of the couple.

The ushers, Kenneth Atkinson, Robert Jamison, William Rohland and William Watkins escorted the several hundred guests to their seats, as well as the immediate families of the couple, the latter pews being indicated with nosegays of flowers tied on the aisle seats. A program of nuptial music, speaking of love, life and happiness, was played by the bride's best girl friend, Mrs. J. Kenneth Atkinson (Dorothy Sankey) beginning shortly after the clock struck eleven. Included in her group of numbers, were "Meditations" by Thais, "Cantilene Nuptials" by Dubois, "Dream of Love" from Liebestraum by Liszt and "At Dawning" by Cadman.

At 11:30 o'clock, the vows were pledged, with the pastor, Dr. D. L. Ferguson, officiating with the single ring service.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was at once girlish and dignified in her wedding gown of white marquisette, made with short train, and fitted bodice. Falling from tiny clusters of cut flowers pinned in her hair, which too, matched her quaint Colonial air, her only jewelry was a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

Sister of the groom, Doris Marvin, was her maid of honor and only attendant. She was attired in a yellow net creation, patterned toe length, with accessories in deep blue. She wore a large Leghorn hat and her flowers were blue delphiniums and yellow roses.

Marcus Stewart, a close friend of the groom, served as best man.

Contributing further to the impressiveness of the occasion, Mrs. Atkinson played the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin by Richard Wagner, as the bridal party entered. During the exchange of vows, soft strains of "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me" were resounded. In conclusion, triumphant echoes of the "Wedding March" by Mendelssohn rang through the auditorium, as the bride and groom and their attendants, proceeded to the vestibule in the rear of the church, to receive congratulations.

A wedding breakfast supplemented the ceremony, served at a prominent tea room down town, with covers marking for the immediate families and wedding party, numbering twenty. The nuptial motif was featured in the table and menu appointments, and the table was gay with crystal and blue tones prevailing. Centerpieces were containers holding cut flowers. The traditional tiered wedding cake, surmounted with miniature figures, was prominently placed.

Dispensing with a wedding trip until late in August when they will go to Philadelphia and other points, the couple was taken by plane by their friend, Wm. Ice, to Pittsburgh. From there, they will continue on Monday to Chester, West Va., where they will be "at home" in their newly furnished apartment at 515 Indiana avenue. For traveling, the bride chose a poudre blue ensemble, redingote style, with matching blue accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of gardenias.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brady appeared in a blue lace street length dress, with hat to match and a shoulder corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. Marvin wore a japonica sheer dress, with brown and white accessories. Her shoulder bouquet was of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of New Castle High School, with the January Class of '31 and is well known in this vicinity, as a dance instructor, having conducted the Nellie Brady School of Dancing here for the past several years. She is identified as one of the leading teachers in the locality, having given her final revue in the Cathedral just recently. Also, she is a member of both the Dancing Masters of America and the Chicago Association.

The groom graduated in the class of June '31, from the local high school, and attended Bethany College. He is a member of the Sigma Nu Fraternity and was a leader among his class associates. Mr. Marvin is at present located in West Virginia, in the capacity of supervisor for the local Marvin Electric Company.

Since the news of their engagement was made known, a series of showers, dinner parties and bridge functions have been given in their honor. A magnificent collection of beautiful and serviceable gifts have been received by the couple for use in their new home.

The rehearsal took place Friday evening, with a buffet dinner being served at the Marvin residence, for the bridal party.

Moving pictures of the entire wedding ceremony, also the guests and the breakfast assemblage were taken by Frank Schiek, an uncle of the groom.

Included in the out-of-town guests at the wedding were, Lieut. and Mrs. R. R. Gurley, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. John and R. M. John of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Winnage, Phoebe Sutliff and Mrs. Edward Brainard, of Warren, O. Mr. and Mrs. John Longstreet, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luse and Mr. and Mrs. Edeburn, of Sharon, Bessie Marvin of Cortland, O., Prof. G. C. Karls of Springfield, Mo., Kathryn Rocks and Francis Rocks of Cleveland, O., Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Bonzo of Ellwood City, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dickey of Butler, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Connors of Pittsburgh, Pa.

BEVERLY FOX IS HOSTESS TO CLUB

Members of the W. W. W. Girls club of W. B. A. Review 88 held a meeting at the home of Beverly Fox, Butler avenue, Friday evening. The meeting was followed by a marshmallow roast. Helen Kennedy was awarded the prize for the "hear yourself" program. Margaret Snyder was also awarded a prize. Eleanor Nowling of Ellwood City was an out-of-town guest.

In August, the club will be one year old, and plans were made for a banquet to be held in a downtown tea room in celebration.

Eleanor Nowling invited the group to her home in Ellwood City on August 23. Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Sam Woods and Miss Nowling. A delicious luncheon was served by Mrs. Glenn Fox, aided by Mrs. Woods.

In two weeks the club will meet at the home of Sally Lou Kurtz, Moore avenue, for a tureen dinner.

HONOR ABE KILDOD AT LAKEWOOD FRIDAY

A most delightful party, and one that was thoroughly enjoyed by all participants, was given on Friday by Mr. and Mrs. VanCourt Carr of Youngstown, O., at their Lakewood Beach cottage, the occasion being in honor of the birthday of Abe Kildod, New Castle resident.

It was strictly an informal affair, consisting of luncheon at 12 o'clock, a drive through the beautiful countryside, and an old-fashioned corn roast at the cottage later.

Guests of honor were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beach of St. Cloud, Fla., who are making a complete tour of the United States and Canada, with both the world's fairs on their itinerary. Mr. and Mrs. Beach stopped for a short visit with New Castle friends and resumed their journey today, en route to New York and Boston.

JOLLY 1929 CLUB HAS EVENING PARTY

Mrs. John Baer was a pleasing hostess at her home on Leasure avenue, Friday evening, when she welcomed membership of the Jolly 1929 club for their meeting, which was in the form of a delightfully planned evening party.

Cards were featured and the winners were Mrs. Emory Wolf and Mrs. Helena Burckhardt. Miss Stella Diefendorfer was a special guest and she also aided with the serving of dainty refreshments.

Mrs. H. W. Brudin will entertain at her home on Park avenue, August 11.

Class Meeting

The Ever Ready class of the First Methodist church gathered in the grove at Cascade Park Friday evening for an enjoyable picnic outing and dinner. Members, numbering 20, and several special guests shared festivities. Informal pastimes were enjoyed after the serving of the dinner at 6:30. The committee was composed of Mrs. H. R. Thompson and Mrs. Viola Foster.

ARE YOUR SAVINGS ABSOLUTELY SECURE AND INSURED? ARE THEY INVESTED TO AVOID MARKET FLUCTUATIONS?

In seeking an investment we are sure you consider these two questions most important. Each individual saver's investment in New Castle Mutual Insured Full Paid Income Shares is fully insured up to $5000.00 by an agency of the United States Government.

New Castle Mutual Insured Full Paid Income Shares are always redeemable at the office of the Association on short notice and at par without selling costs or brokerage fees.

Savings invested in the New Castle Mutual come mostly from persons who have heretofore invested in Government Bonds and Postal Savings. They want a fair return with maximum safety under the protection of an agency of the Federal Government.

Shares are now available in $100 units.

N. D. B. MEMBERSHIP ENJOYS DINNER PARTY

N. D. B. club members enjoyed a dinner at Cascade Park Friday evening, which took the place of their regular assembly. At 6:30 the members were served a tempting menu, after which informal pastimes were enjoyed.

Cards featured the later hours and winners were Robert Barnes and Mrs. Robert Stewart. Plans were formed for a corn roast to be at the Park August 18.

The committee for last evening included Mrs. Ernest Rishel, Mrs. Annie Johnson, Mrs. Jesse Gehrken and Mrs. Maude McCullough.

O. T. I. Birthday Party

Honoring her birthday anniversary on Friday evening, Mrs. Frances DeLillo entertained members of the O. T. I. club and a few friends at her residence on Division street.

Card playing claimed attention, the high score prize going to Mrs. Catherine Cialella.

At an appropriate hour the hostess served a delicious birthday dinner in the dining room, assisted by Mrs. Phil Pauline. A huge birthday cake centered the table. Special guest on this occasion was Mrs. Connie Daltoria.

Mrs. DeLillo was the recipient of many lovely gifts in remembrance of the day.

TWO TERMS ENOUGH FOR PRESIDENT

THE Johnstown Democrat, which is about as independent as it is Democratic from a political standpoint, does not believe in the third term for a president. It says that in order that there may be no misunderstanding on the part of its readers or its constituency, now or later, it feels it ought, in fairness to itself, state its position on the third term issue.

It then goes on to say that "We cannot conceive how any American, mindful of or faithful to our democratic tradition or our national way of life, can consistently support any other American for a third term as president of our Republic."

"The third term movement is vitalized solely by the hunger for office experienced by men who realize their only hope of election is to ride into office on Franklin Roosevelt's coat-tails."

"If our democracy is so bankrupt available leadership is represented in the person of one man, it were better to go Fascist directly than do so indirectly. Unless we see a new light, this paper, for reasons which we will set forth from time to time, opposes a third term as president for Franklin Delano Roosevelt or anybody else."

TAKING LONGEVITY BY THE FORELOCK

By reserving for himself a room in a Florida resort hotel for the next thirty seasons, George Butterworth, of Bloomfield, New Jersey, who is now seventy years old, evidences a cocksureness about reaching a hundred which (as he probably knows) is about the best way to achieve that end. And after thirty more winters in Florida, if he decides he wants another thirty, or another hundred, with a spirit like his he will need only to make his plans for it and no doubt he'll get an extension.

Mother Nature is often lenient to her contented children and cooperative if they really like to hang around. She doesn't like empty, vain-glorious boasting, but hopeful optimism and cheery, serene expectations are something else. Persons looking for trouble or death don't have to wait long; Mr. Butterworth at seventy blithely signs up until 1969, and he has a chance of making good. It would be too bad to lose anybody with such faith.

VELMA'S FLING IS NOW ENDED

Her five-week fling ended, Velma West, the once-pretty Perry, O., farm girl who killed her husband because he refused to go to dances and card parties with her, today is headed to the prison farm from which she and three other women prisoners escaped.

Seven pounds heavier than on the day of her escape, Mrs. West and Mary Ellen Richards, 23, convicted hijacker, were re-captured in Dallas, Tex., before either had a chance to realize one of her ambitions—to see a talking motion picture. Both must spend 30 days in solitary confinement as punishment for violating their trust in prison. Each also has forfeited certain prison privileges for all time, officials at the Marysville Reformatory for Women say.

Talkies to most of us have become commonplace. To Velma West, a girl of the jazz age who loved parties and liked to go places but was hampered by a husband who preferred to stay at home and work among the trees, flowers and shrubs of his nursery, they are a novelty of the twentieth century.

The rest of her life will be spent in prison where world progress that will bring even more astounding developments than the talkies will be unknown to her. Certainly, the mere thought of being forced to miss all of the beauties of the outside world should serve as an adequate deterrent in our battle against crime.

TIME TO RELAX

With August's famed and dreaded "dog days" at hand, it is perhaps pertinent to remind ourselves that by letting up a bit in the tension of modern living we may add years to our lives.

That man has always been prone to take himself and his work too seriously may be seen from the following admonition, delivered hundreds of years ago by a wise man to his frenzied fellows:

"An Athenian seeing Aesop in a crowd of boys at play, stopped and laughed at him for a madman. As soon as the sage, a laughter at others rather than one to be laughed at, perceived this, he placed an unstrung bow in the middle of the road: 'Hark you, wise man,' said he, 'unriddle what I have done. The people gather round, the man torments his invention a long time but cannot make out the reason of the proposed question. At last he gives up.

"Upon this, the victorious philosopher says: 'You will soon break the bow if you always keep it bent; but if you loosen it, it will be fit for use when you want it.'"

And that, we submit, contains a shrewd lesson for application in August—or, for that matter, at any other time of the year.

If Dr. Compton, or some similarly resourceful scientist, should get in communication with Mars, he might discover that the Martians were pretty sure about our having stolen their moon. It seems that in the general planetary raiding, after the prime nebular shake-up, this moon was a sort of maverick, bearing nobody's brand, and that we won out in the gravitational grab.

The Martians might get out quite a plausible white book, to establish their hegemony over the sphere although it lies deep in the moon of influence. It may be assumed that the communications would start with suave diplomatic evasions, and double-talk progress to finally reach the fishwife stage of double-crossing truculent back talk.

Our planetary isolationists would insist that we ought to let Mars stew in her own juice, but with rumors that Mars was reading an inter-stellar letter to blow us to bits, there would be a swelling wave of planetary patriotism. We would build great defensive fleets and any puffed-up, megacephalic citizens would be hounded as a Martian spy. The result would be universal brotherhood and peace on earth. Trivial indeed would be Danzig, the Danube route to India and all other issues of "living space." We would have attained Mr. Clarence Streit's "Union Now." Then it might be disclosed that Dr. Compton had faked the Martian communications. He would take a bow for having ended war and brought the peoples of the earth together by a simple and easy expedient.

Something like that may happen—in the microcosm, rather than the macrocosm of the universe, and there is no fake about it. More dead than the fanged, goggle-eyed legions of the sub-microscopic underworld. The world-wide scientific (Continued On Page Five)

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHAT'S BEST FOR THE CHILD

MANUFACTURERS of children's clothes have made great progress in providing garments that are comfortable to the child and promote self-help in him.

There are few buttons, sometimes none at all on a garment. Others have big buttons, big buttonholes and zippers!

Mothers who make their children's clothing still may like some fussy doo-dads for special dress, but such are rapidly passing. Frills and ruffles are hard to launder and keep clean and are not durable. Worst of all, the toddler or runabout who must wear them is hampered in his activity and, on their account, may frequently be hounded for getting them soiled or torn. If he submits to continuous caution about his fancy garments, their children soon will shun him.

Whether hand-made or ready-made, the child's garments should be comfortably roomy. We may forget that while the child grows, his clothes do not. Accordingly, undergarments and rompers often become tight. Not only are they very uncomfortable to the child, but they are bad for his posture and may encourage bad habits.

Simple Garment Best
For play the simplest garment is the best. When the toddler or runabout comes home from a place where he had to be dressed up, see that he changes at once to play clothes and that he soon learns to take such responsibility himself. Do this for economy, comfort and escape from family annoyances.

For the baby and young child shoes should be at least one-half inch longer than the foot. The young child outgrows his shoes before they wear out. Watch for signs of crowded or bent toes. While it may seem necessary to have a younger child wear the outgrown shoes of an older one, it is very undesirable. It is bad for comfort, ease of walking and posture.

Watch the child's shoes for uneven wear. The child who toes-in or rolls-in on his shoes needs special attention of the doctor. Fortunately, high-grade shoe stores generally have salesmen who are trained in proper fitting of babies' and children's shoes.

THE LITTLE PUTT
Mine is the game of the duffer, the chap who can never learn; My scores are the common "ninety" which most of the golfers spurn.

But it isn't the long work spoils me. I'm useful enough with the wood. Some of the best pros living have said that my drives are good. I'm handy enough with the irons. I'm fair with the masher, but The best that I do is useless. I never can sink a putt.

Three putts on the greens are fatal! Yet that is my common lot. To the golfer with such a weakness what good is the longer shot? The strokes that he takes are counted and never the hole is won.

Though the drive be a mighty wallop, till the last of the putting's done. And where is that brilliant iron that gave me the chance for "four"?

If before the score can be written I'm going to take three strokes more?

You may think that the drive's important and boasts of the long shots true, But the little putt can ruin the best that your strength can do.

The two-foot at the finish! Son, practice again and again. For that is the shot that is really the maker and breaker of men.

It's by failing in matters simple man loses instead of wins. So in life, as in golf, let me warn you: Beware of your little sins.

HAT ETIQUETTE.
While golf players listen to the dictates of Robert Jones and bridge players diligently follow the instructions of Eli Culbertson, those who are desirous of following the rules of etiquette must not Emily Post.

Now, Emily may not know everything, and considering that fact, a young man brought himself to write a letter to the editor of a local newspaper on the subject of hats. The principal thing that seemed to bother him was embodied in the following question: "Please tell me when and where it is the correct time for a gentleman to lift or remove his hat."

And here is the reply he received: "Without consulting authorities of etiquette—in fact, giving it to you offhand, so to speak—we would say that at the following times and on the following occasions respectively, that the hat should be removed or lifted as circumstances indicate: When mopping the brow, when taking a bath, when eating, when going to bed, when taking up a collection, when having the hair trimmed, when being shampooed, when standing on the head."

THE POWERFUL KATRINKA

(C 1939, by Fontaine Fox)

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:19. Sun rises tomorrow 4:48.

Things must be pretty bad in congress when even the Democrats are in a fighting mood.

It's when a heap of virtues are out of work that things go blooze.

Many people are very careful about the water they drink while traveling. They are not so careful about other things they drink, not even what they use for a chaser.

A famous golfer's wife is suing for a divorce, a suggestion for others to use the drivers less and the spoon more often.

If you are figuring on getting an old age pension some time be sure you know if you are naturalized, you are and a thousand other questions you will have to answer. Many people have a big time getting the questions answered. Have them all ready soon as possible.

A BIG STEP
The army, we understand is about to abolish the old "squads right" a lot of us remember so well. Yes, air, things do improve. Now if they come along and abolish top sergeants we will agree that they are doing their best to make war enjoyable.

An actor refuses to gaze at himself on the screen for fear of becoming sick of himself. And making it unanimous.

GOLDEN WEDDING
"Fifty Years Of Wedded Bliss!"
Ran the title.

Completely missing.
All the fragrance.
All the richness.
Of a lifetime shared.

Fifty years ago.
Two young hearts.
Facing the future.
Unafraid.
Shoulder to shoulder.
Through the years;
And all that time.
No misunderstandings?
No mistakes?
No heartaches?

Of course, there were.
And in them.
Through them.
Something fine and strong.
Took root.
Nourished with laughter,
Watered with tears.
It grew and blossomed.
Into a home.

A government bureau urges that citizens repair their homes. Around here residents might begin scraping off the bairnaces.

As we travel over the country we see many men loafing around country stores, lying under trees and playing golf. One sees very few men working. Maybe that has something to do with millions having little to eat.

What's the matter with the world is that grown-ups leave it to the Boy Scouts to perform the good deeds.

LIFE'S LITTLE AGONIES
An unsophisticated young man went to the doctor and complained of seeing spots in front of his eyes. He was advised to get glasses. Weeks later he was asked by the doctor if his eyes were improving. "Sure," was the reply. "The glasses are great. I can see the spots a lot plainer now."

A New Castle man while on a trip recently asked a man in a city if they had any policemen in that place. The man replied "we have some men wearing badges here."

AND NOW I'LL TELL ONE
To most foreigners the English language especially as spoken in this country, is the most difficult of all languages to learn. But of all countries on earth who have sent their nationals to this country, none have the faculty of twisting the English grammar out of shape as Most every place we go we find dishes made in this city by the Shenango China Company. We are always glad to see them and also look for them. Those dishes have advertised New Castle more than a thousand football teams could do.

When we mention things good to eat in this column we are not hinting to get some. We have often received things we spoke about and were sorry we spoke.

A Michigan guy swallowed a quantity of glass, but is suffering no ill effects except slight panes.

OUCH!
"Yes, sire," said a chap on the Plaza. "I wouldn't have believed it, either if I hadn't read it in the papers."

"What's that?" asked another philosopher.

"Why this fellow Henry Wallace of the government has turned spang around against the New Dealers."

"You must be crazy."

"Nope, you can read for yourself. I've saved the clipping. It says here that Mr. Wallace says we've got to learn a little common sense."

Blessed are the self-sufficient souls who envy nobody; their conversation doesn't consist of caty criticisms.

Congressmen won't sacrifice their principles to please any country in Europe. There is no Townsend vote over there.

Advertising may be more ethical, but you still can't judge a speaker by the enthusiasm of the guy who introduces him.

Three-man control of W. P. A. will at least be more entertaining. Wait till they begin telling on one another.

What's What At A Glance

Investors See No Prosperity Ahead
Taxes Must Be Lessened To Make Money
American Federation of Investors Speaks

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The American Federation of Investors issued a statement recently which got a fairly good play on the newspapers' financial pages, but which practically didn't break at all into their news columns. Of course the average reader chucks his paper's financial section into the discard with scarcely even a peek at its headlines. He can't be blamed for it, either. Financial editors are 100 per cent specialists, who handle their stuff too technically to appeal to financially uneducated folk, like most of us. And we don't understand it very well if we do try to read it.

However, this particular statement was interesting, provided you had the resolution to wade through it.

The A. F. of I. undertook to prove that we can't expect to have appreciable better times under our present load of taxation. It makes out quite a convincing case in favor of its contention. The statement's prime purpose is to harrow up the feelings of investors, but it makes the incidental point that unless investors are reasonably prosperous the general public can't be.

For instance:
The A. F. of I. gathered its information from the records of 163 of the country's major corporations. These corporations, it reports, didn't do so well in 1938 as in 1937. Consequently their 6,500,000 stockholders got smaller dividends. That, the statement argues, in part accounts for the 1938 recession. All those stockholders (mainly no plutocrats whatever, but people in moderate circumstances) had to economize.

The corporation likewise had to economize. They did it by reducing the number of their workers. In 1938 they averaged 17,601 apiece, as compared with 21,141 in 1937. This meant that labor was cramped also.

Two-Thirds Taxes
The A. F. of I. agrees that American industry has had some money left over after paying its operating expenses—but not counting taxes.

It's had a pre-tax profit of a certain number of dollars—running into billions. Then, however, it's had to reckon that the tax collector would gobble 61.6 cents out of each $1 bill, leaving only 38.4 cents to be handed out in dividends. Not would the dividend recipients have received as much as 38.4 cents if his corporation hadn't cut down on labor. Otherwise his labor would have cost more and it still would have had to dig up 61.6 cents per $1 in taxes. The difference would have come out of the stockholder.

Put it either way—the A. F. of I. figures that the tax collector is the nigger in the woodpile.

Now, the outstanding economic complaint of today is that the industrial investor doesn't like to invest in private enterprise—because, before he gets his dividend, so much is taken out of it by the revenue bureau.

To be sure, the investor has an alternative. He can put his money into federal, state or municipal securities, which are tax-free. They pay a low interest rate—but since they're untaxed perhaps in the long run they're more profitable. Hence the demand for a tax on these non-taxed securities. The theory is that such a tax would drive money out of federal, state and municipal bonds back into private investment.

Possibly it would. Yet, if so, how would federal, state and municipal governments be able to continue financing themselves? Obviously they'd have to boost their interest rates to compete with private borrowers.

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York City, president of the national mayors' organization, says this would "bust" every municipality in America—not to mention federal and state governments. And probably there'd be an undesirable reaction upon private investments if all our federal, state and municipal credits went floozy.

One Good Thing
There's one good thing about it. Taxation ought to be, not oppressive, but conspicuous. If folk don't realize that they're being taxed they don't resent it. If it begins to hurt, they holler.

Just what good, however, is going to do isn't so apparent, though. More than a $40,000,000,000 national indebtedness already chalking up and fresh billions mounting, it would look like a long time before levies are modified.

The American Federation of Investors doesn't explain that.

Bible Thought For Today

The Japs made their mistake by not spreading from their little island, as the Brits did, when there was room to spread.

Second U. P. Congregation To Direct Park Service Sunday

Rev. Rose Will Preach In Park

Pastor Of Second U. P. Church Will Deliver Sermon At Service Sunday Evening

CHOIR WILL SING AT UNION SERVICE

Rev. J. Calvin Rose, youthful leader of the large Second United Presbyterian congregation, will preach Sunday evening at the 7:00 o'clock union service in Cascade Park, sponsored by the New Castle Ministerial Association. His subject will be "Have We Tried Religion?"

The Second U. P. choir, directed by Mrs. Robert McCrumb, and with Mrs. William Rainey as accompanist, will sing during the service, which will be conducted as usual at the Park bandstand, or in case of rain, in the Park pavilion.

From 6:45 to 7 o'clock, hymns of praise, played by the talented brass quartet, headed by Charles Coulter, will resound through the Park, calling all to worship.

The attendance at the Park services has increased considerably since they began some weeks ago. All of the sermons have been excellent and the Sunday evenings in the beautiful Park have proven most inspiring to all those present.

The City Rescue Mission will conduct an old-fashioned praise-testimony service in its South Mercer street hall tonight and later conduct street services in the Seventh ward.

Sunday school classes meet tomorrow at 3. On Sunday evening a special program of music will be given by the Carpenter sisters of Warren, Pa., accomplished musicians and graduates of Taylor University, Brookline, Ind.

John Templeton To Give Vesper Sermon Sunday

Special Service Planned In Indian Village At Camp

John M. Phillips

John H. Templeton, Jr., a senior Bible student at Allegheny college, Meadville, has been secured by the Lawrence County Boy Scout office, to deliver the special vesper sermon Sunday evening at Camp John M. Phillips.

Mr. Templeton is a senior at the college, director of the college gospel team and a member of the local First Methodist church. He promises to bring a sermon that will be of special interest to the scouts at the camp.

This special vesper service will be held in the Indian Village at the camp, beginning at 8 o'clock. Parents and friends of the boys have been invited to attend this program. The setting will be about a huge council campfire.

Miss Adams Will Preach Sunday In Gospel Tabernacle

The services Sunday in the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street, will be of a different nature due to the fact that the pastor, Rev. J. H. Boon, is attending the Mahaffey camp. The speaker during the morning worship hour will be Miss Nellie Adams who has been studying at the Missionary Training Institute in Nyack, New York, and who plans soon to embark for foreign service. The evening service will be given over entirely to the young ladies of the church who will present a program of interest. Several musical numbers have been arranged for while Miss June Wheale and Miss Bernice Gibbons will be the speakers.

Bible Conference Enters Fifth Week

Rev. O. E. Phillips Of Washington Is Sunday Speaker At Calvary Tabernacle

Rev. Raymond J. Fredericks, pastor of the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle, stated today that judging by the large week-night crowds which have been attending the tabernacle meetings during the past week, record crowds may be present for the three sessions tomorrow.

Sunday will open the fifth week of the fourth annual summer Bible conference sponsored by the East Side center. Rev. O. E. Phillips, of Washington, D. C., head speaker of the Biblical Research society, will conclude his illustrated lectures on modern Palestine in the light of the scriptures, with three timely discourses. He will preach at the tabernacle tonight on the subject, "The Mystery of His Will."

Hints On Etiquette

Even if you don't like to play bridge, rummy or what-have-you, when you are a guest in a home, enter into whatever is planned with zest and get the best time you can out of it. Forgetting your peevishness and helping your hosts to carry out their plans successfully will make you a grand guest to entertain and also add to your own good time.

Twenty Churches Will Join In Dedication Program At Mission

Sunday will be an outstanding day in the history of the Clifton Platts Mission, as the fine new tabernacle, built recently to replace the old one room mission, is dedicated and renamed "God's Tabernacle."

Rev. Samuel C. Baker, pastor of the mission, will be in charge of the program, and he stated today that 22 churches for this district will join in the dedication program. This special service will begin at 10 p. m., and will continue until after midnight.

In addition to this special service, four other meetings are planned by the congregation Sunday. Beginning at 9:45 o'clock Sunday morning in the tabernacle will be the first service. In the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, a baptismal service will be held at the old Albion Mills dam. Early evening service will begin at 7:30 o'clock, followed at 8:15 o'clock by evangelistic service, both in the tabernacle.

The program, beginning at 10 o'clock Sunday night will be known as a back home hour. At this time a song fest will be held, followed by the dedication and re-naming ceremony.

All new pews have been provided for the new tabernacle and new song books were presented by Mrs.

John Baker. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Copper furnished music book racks. All of these gifts and others will be received at this time and recognition given the donors.

Orchestra from the First Pentecostal church will play request numbers, followed by songs by the Tanner sisters from the Savannah Methodist church. Samuel Burrows and daughter Mae of Ellwood City will sing several duets.

Other churches whose congregations will be represented and who will take part in the program follow: Nazarene, Bethlehem Baptist, Highland Heights Tabernacle, Christian Missionary Alliance of Ellwood City, Coalstown Free Methodist, Arlington Avenue Free Methodist, Harmony Baptist, Castlewood Christian Alliance, Valley Way Mission, City Mission, Gospel Mission, Chewton Christian church, Croton Methodist, First Christian, Butler Baptist, Christian Missionary Alliance of New Castle, Wesley Methodist, Park Gate Baptist of Ellwood City, Slippery Rock U. P., Simpson Methodist and the Calvary Gospel Tabernacle.

Other musical groups who will take part in the program are the Welker family, the Colored Quartet of New Castle and the Silver Moon Quartet of Ellwood City.

The Human Side Of The News

By EDWIN C. HILL

mobilization against them breaks through the international barriers of hate and stupidity and the war against disease is probably the one hopeful unifying force on the planet. We have reasons to be scared. These killers are taking their daily toll by the thousands.

J. D. Ratcliff, in an article in McCall's Magazine, notes that cancer alone, in a two year period, "took more lives than bullets claimed in all the wars in which the United States has participated." In his article "War on Cancer" Mr. Ratcliff tells the story of the recently enacted Cancer Institute Act by which a great research institution is established under the direction of the United States Public Health Service. It will spend $700,000 a year. To fight bovine tuberculosis, there has been an expenditure of $2,600,000 a year, while cancer, each year, was taking 140,000 lives. But this is, at any rate, a beginning and Mr. Ratcliff turns in an inspiring report on the rally on every front against this ruthless foe of life.

Recruits for this war, and medal winners among them, are turning up from various nations, and not even the absolutist totalitarian powers are hold-outs. One of the most important contributions, in the still faltering and groping stage of cancer research, was the work of two obscure Japanese laboratory workers, Yamaguchi and Ichikawa. This has to do with a means of inducing cancer. Aside from producing cancers for laboratory study, this achievement is of great importance, as the method of inducing it rules out viruses and bacteria as possible causes.

With this knowledge, the scientists turn to mob-rule to cellular structure, to a theory of anarchist cells, in other words, and more than a hint that here is a problem of chemistation, involving possibly inorganic substances, rather than alien bodies. England, in the new laboratories of the Imperial Cancer Research Fund, is making important ant basic discoveries, and banishing old errors.

Cancer is not a disease of "civilized" people; it is prevalent among primitives, it is not increasing at an alarming rate; it is not a disease of humans alone, but pervades the whole vertebrate kingdom; even insects have cancer; it is an affliction of older individuals, both in animals and men.

Germany, Italy and Russia are contributing to this vast effort in clarification and understanding, in spite of their supposed scientific reaction. Tennyson's "parliament of mankind" may some day be a convocation of intelligence, rather than emotion. We may yet end war by a united front against a possibly even greater menace.

Playground Team Will See Pirates

ELLWOOD CITY, July 29—Playground Director Denny Schill announced today that Fullmer Playground softball team, winner of the Huck-Finn League and Shelby Playground winner of the Tom-Sawyer League will be taken to Pittsburgh Tuesday to see the Pirates and Brooklyn teams play as a reward for their winning the Playground League championships.

Over four hundred boys participating in the two leagues this year and spirited rivalry existed in both leagues throughout the entire league play.

The boys will leave early in the morning, Tuesday, by automobile and will have an opportunity to sight-see Pittsburgh before the game.

Starting the first week in August, the playgrounds will forget softball and a touch of football league will be organized with all playgrounds participating.

It is hoped that a few good forward passers and receivers might be developed in this way for the high school football squad.

Granges Honor Mrs. Safreed

ELLWOOD CITY, July 29—Ten granges of Beaver county assembled last evening at the North Sewickley township grange hall, on the Ellwood-New Brighton road, for a pomona "travelling clock" program. About 250 members of the granges participated.

A feature of the evening was a county wide shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Safreed, whose marriage was an event of June. Mrs. Safreed has been the pomona secretary for many years and each of the granges presented her with a lovely gift. She was formerly, Miss Vesta Householder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Householder.

At the close of the evening, a tempting lunch was served by the economic committee of the local grange, Mrs. G. N. Hazen, Mrs. Bert Caven, Mrs. Dave Douglass and Mrs. George Swick.

ACTOR'S SCREAMS CAUSE BLAZE IN RADIO STATION

(International News Service)
MODESTO, Cal.—A little too much enthusiasm for their work on the part of two amateur entertainers cost the management of radio station KTRB $60 and a lot of anguish.

Two high school students were rendering "Little Red Riding Hood" in French at the station. The script called for screams when the big bad wolf began chasing Miss Hood.

The girls gave their all, and screamed so heartily that they caused the station's equipment to over-modulate and the transmitter caught fire. The blaze was extinguished swiftly.

County Treasurer, V.I. Mandich, Extends Time for Payment of Delinquent Taxes Under New 1939 Tax Abatement Act

The new tax abatement act was approved by the Governor on June 20th, 1939, effective on its face until August 1st, 1939, but providing that municipalities could reject the Act until July 20th, 1939. No municipality of Lawrence County has rejected the Act. The Act provides that the County Treasurer has the power to extend the time for payment under the Act for a period of not longer than three months from August 1st, 1939.

Because of the insufficiency of time; because many taxpayers have not had notice of the provisions of the Act; because many taxpayers have not had time to arrange for payment and because the Act directs tax sales within three months from expiration date of this Act, against properties were the delinquent taxpayers do not take advantage of this Act or did not take advantage of any previous Abatement Act:

Now, therefore, pursuant to the authority conferred upon me by Section 1 of the Act of Assembly, approved June 20th, 1939, known as Act No. 233, I hereby determine and publicly announce an extension to OCTOBER THIRTY-FIRST, 1939, of the time of payment of the first installment of twenty per cent on delinquent taxes which otherwise would be payable not later than August 1st, 1939, under the provisions of said Act of Assembly, and this extension applies to delinquent COUNTY, CITY, BOROUGH, TOWNSHIP, SCHOOL DISTRICT, POOR DISTRICT and INSTITUTION DISTRICT taxes within the County of Lawrence.

This extension applies exclusively to delinquent taxes and has nothing whatever to do with any current taxes for 1939, or the dates on which they are payable.

By virtue of this extension of time taxpayers who owe delinquent taxes can pay in full, or make first twenty per cent payment on or before October 31st, 1939, and twenty per cent on or before October 31st, each year, for four years thereafter.

V. I. MANDICH,
County Treasurer Of Lawrence County.

Building Boom Reported In U. S.

Billion Dollar Building Program Under Way Says Washington Report

By JACK VINCENT

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 29.—One New Deal agency reported a billion-dollar building boom today, while another wing of the federal government hastened its criminal investigation into the building trades to open the flood-gates of a potential $15,000,000,000 market for new homes.

That the spurt in building had all the earmarks of a boom was reflected by the fact that building, during the first six months of 1939, increased approximately 30 per cent. over the same period in 1938. The rise continued into July, with unofficial estimates indicating that construction was at a high level at the present time.

The labor department reported that a survey in 2,006 key cities throughout the nation showed that permits were issued for $1,031,212,000 of new construction during the first six months of this year, an increase of exactly 30.4 per cent over the same period last year.

City Treasurer Announces Today

C. C. "Rube" McKibben Seeks Nomination Upon Republican Ticket

C. C. "RUBE" MCKIBBEN

C. C. "Rube" McKibben, city treasurer, today announces his candidacy for nomination upon the Republican ticket for re-election to the office. His statement of announcement follows:

"Four years ago I was elected treasurer of the city of New Castle. In my platform I stated that if elected I would devote all my time to the duties of the office, that my experience of the past quarter century in accounts would be used to conduct the office properly and that I would allow no partisan politics to determine the selection of the assistants in the office.

"That term to which I was elected is nearly finished and I now ask the Republican voters for the nomination to succeed myself as city treasurer.

"In spite of the fact that we have installed a system of partial payments for the convenience of taxpayers, thus adding considerably to the detail of the office, there has been no increase in force. The assistants who were in the office were retained because they knew the work and with all due modesty I can say that the office has been handled efficiently, that taxpayers have received courteous treatment and that every dollar entrusted to my care as treasurer has been accounted for strictly according to the law.

"The office of city treasurer is ministerial rather than executive. The treasurer's duties are to receive taxes, disburse them upon warrant, and to render honest, intelligent accounts to the proper authorities. All these things have been done. It is useless to discuss any policies of the various other governmental offices for the treasurer's job is that of an accountant, of a steward, and the farther away he keeps from controversies concerning policy of the city or county the more time he has to devote to the serious business of being treasurer.

"I have considered my job as treasurer to be just that, a job that required my full time and that of the assistants in the office. My stewardship is open to any inspection or audit at any time, the accounts are in order, and taxpayers are able to get service promptly. If my work has met with the approval of the voters I ask their consideration at the polls on September 12."

HOLD TWO YOUTHS

Denny Brophy and Robert Trott, youths, former caddies, New Castle Field club, were arrested and held for court by Squire James C. Brice on a charge of taking a pocketbook containing $2.50 from an auto recently at the Field club. State Motor Policemen Brush and Gibbons made the arrests.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

HOW WOULD YOU TREAT A SPRAINED ANKLE?

One of the most common injuries which your child may sustain this summer when you are out camping is a sprained ankle. The usual sprain occurs when the foot turns under so that the weight of the body strains the ligaments of the ankle. As a result, a swelling appears almost immediately on the outer side of the ankle, and the unfortunate victim will suffer intense pain every time the foot is placed on the ground. If you examine the ankle shortly after the sprain, you will notice that the usual bony outline of the ankle has disappeared into the swelling. A finger placed just below the ankle bone on the outside of the leg will show this area to be excessively tender.

Unfortunately we can never be sure whether or not the end of the bone on the outside of the ankle has been pulled off or not. If it has, then the ankle must be put up in a plaster cast and kept that way for several weeks. Because of this danger, a doctor should always be called to attend an ankle sprain.

If you are at a place where no doctor is available for a day or two, then the ankle should be secured by bandaging with adhesive tape.

To do this, cut four strips of adhesive, each 20 inches long, and two strips ten inches long. The foot should be bent so as to relax the ligaments on the outside of the ankle that have been strained. Attach one of the long pieces of adhesive by one end to the inside of the ankle from four to six inches above the foot. The remainder of this piece should be swept down around the instep and back along the outer side of the leg. In doing this, the ankle will be pulled so that the ligaments on the outside will be relaxed and those on the inside will be stretched. If the adhesive is the right length you will find that it reaches half way to the knee on outside of the leg. The other three long pieces of adhesive will be placed on the leg in the same

FORMER TIN WORKER ARRIVES NEXT WEEK

Daniel John of Chatham, Pa., one of New Castle's former tin workers, arrives here August 1 for a visit of several weeks at the home of his daughter, Rev. Agnes E. Guthrie, pastor of the Spiritualist Church of Truth. John makes his permanent residence at the Macabees home at Chatham.

In a letter to friends today, John expressed the hope that he'll get to see and talk again with his old-time New Castle friends.

AROUND CITY HALL

Use of a police radio and a cruiser car system in the police department has gone far toward the protection of property here and especially during summer time when so many residents are on vacation.

Many residents notify police prior to departure for vacation points. Police receive orders to watch houses and this is done by the police in cruiser cars which scout in various parts of the city.

While performing this routine duty they are subject by call from WPGT, which is the call signal for the New Castle police department radio station. Scout cars radios are kept tuned and upon order, depart immediately for trouble zones.

The fingerprint department also has come in for commendation. Through fingerprints the records of persons taken into custody here and elsewhere, is made known.

This information is received from the federal bureau of identification, department of justice. Some persons arrested here have been turned over to authorities of cities when the FBI stated they were wanted persons.

In addition to these protective instruments, the Gamewell system of alarm is used at police headquarters. Over this electric system, police report to headquarters every hour, or more often, if necessary.

When the desk sergeant desires to issue an alarm he flashes over the Gamewell system, a red signal and the patrolman on a patrol, opens the box, picks up the telephone and receives instructions.

There is also a traffic division at police headquarters. There men direct traffic at different points. Recently, because of a highway detour, men have been assigned to all the main thoroughfare "hot corners."

Years ago there was no detective bureau. However, there has been for some time. Three men are attached to it. In addition the police chief, lieutenants and some times, patrolmen, do plain-clothes or detective duty.

New Castle Flier Has Long Record In Air

Construction of the big new airplane hangar at the New Castle Airport, marks the culmination of flying achievement for New Castle's well known pilot and airplane instructor, Findley C. Wilson. Starting as a lad with a keen interest in flying, Findley has come up through the ranks to become a qualified transport pilot, licensed mechanic and instructor.

Findley, who is instructor and owner of the New Castle Flying School, has taught many local people and others the art of flying. Many of his students have turned out and made good in the flying profession.

Wilson has been in the flying game 12 years to date, and his first airplane was purchased without even having a ride in one, so keen was his interest in flying.

With his first airplane, which Findley helped to make while employed in the Franklin Aircraft Company, in Franklin, Pa., he chalked up many of his first hours and made a cross country flight, stopping at 20 different airports.

In his earlier days of flying, Findley had a hand in the construction of the first hangars and runways of what is now the big Pittsburgh-Butler Airport. After acquiring his transport license, Wilson began teaching flying in Franklin.

He later conducted a flying school in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, returning here in 1932 to open the New Castle Flying school at the New Castle Airport.

In addition to being a flying instructor, Findley is also a school teacher, being in charge of the Washington school in Union township. While securing his education for this position, he commuted to Slippery Rock State Teachers College by airplane, using the football gridiron for a landing field.

It is interesting to note the many uses Wilson has put the airplane to, among them being: forest patrol, aerial photography, hunting, hunting lost cattle, power line survey work, charter service, and most important of all, training young aviation enthusiasts.

Hearing was held before Judge W. Walter Braham in the non-support and desertion case of Bess Fitzhugh, against her husband, Gordon Fitzhugh, of Norris Way. Judge Braham made an order directing that Gordon pay his wife $10 per month, the payments to be collected through parole officer, Jack M. Dunlap.

Joe Restino of 1408 Moravia street, has filed an application at the Prothonotary's office for a divorce from his wife, Hazel W. Restino, of Mt. Jackson. The couple were married in May, 1920 at Mt. Jackson.

Following the cancellation of registrations at the registration office, cards are being mailed to those whose names have been stricken off. The cards read, "This is to notify you that your name has been removed from the register as a qualified elector in accordance with the registration act. You may re-register any time on or before August 12th, and you will still be qualified to vote at the primary election, September 12."

Paul Daytner of near Volant, has filed a petition to open a judgment obtained against him by the Universal Sales Company for $143.50. Mr. Daytner alleges that he had no knowledge that the judgment had been entered against him until the sheriff came to make a levy. He claims that he delivered to the plaintiff one cow worth $40, and a horse worth $125, in satisfaction of a note held by plaintiff.

A rule was issued, returnable on the second Monday of September.

Thomas W. Henderson, who was before the court on a desertion and non-support case, and who was ordered to pay his wife $30 per month is in jail on a contempt of court charge. Following the making of the order Henderson made payments through Parole Officer, Jack M. Dunlap, but some six weeks ago, is said to have left for Chicago without making the necessary arrangements for payments. Dunlap got busy and learned that Henderson had secured a job driving trucks through to New York. He notified local officials to be on the lookout for him and Thursday evening he was arrested by Constable Frank Connors, as he and another man were driving a truck through New Castle. The other man continued with the truck.

In the estate of the late Bes L. Lusk, which came before the court on exceptions to an adjudication, Judge W. Walter Braham has handed down an opinion in which it is held that under Mr. Lusk's will Jennie Belle Lusk became the owner of a property on Moody avenue. It is further decreed that a judgment of the First National Bank of Lawrence county, a mortgage of

City-County Moguls Meet Friday Night

League Divided Into Two Sections; Protest Games Ordered Replayed

BRENT-PLAINGROVE WILL PLAY TONIGHT

Commissioners and managers of City-County Baseball League held an important meeting on Friday night at 112 West Washington street.

Two protests were aired. The officials ordered the Croton-Nashua 6-6 tie to be replayed on Tuesday night, August 1 at Nashua. The Brent-Edenburg, 3-3 tie, was also ordered replayed, Tuesday, August 1, at Edenburg.

Regarding the second half race, the league has been split into two sections. Brent, Plaingrove, Croton, Red Skins, South Hills, Wampum, Princeton and South Side Board of Trade will form one of the sections. Edenburg, Union A. A. Harbor, Union Red Caps, Mahoning, Colored Elks, Pulaski and Nashua will comprise the other section. During the meeting, the moguls adopted the following rules:

Two protests were aired. The officials ordered the Croton-Nashua 6-6 tie to be replayed on Tuesday night, August 1 at Nashua. The Brent-Edenburg, 3-3 tie, was also ordered replayed, Tuesday, August 1, at Edenburg.

City Baseball Games Sunday

Lawrence Indies Will Play Pulaskis At Cedar Street Field

SLOVAKS COLUMBUS AT CLIFTON FLATS

Should the K. Pulaski team defeat the league leading Lawrence Indies Sunday afternoon at the Cedar street field, and the Slovaks upset the Columbus Club at Clifton Flats, there is going to be an airtight race for the second half title in the loop.

If West Pittsburgh can defeat the St. Josephs team, they can take the lead in the league by virtue of having played one more game than the Indies and Slovaks. There is a lot of "ifs" in the league games for Sunday and the fans are bound to see good baseball.

Columbus Vs Slovaks
Manager Maslyk will have his ace Cab Mroczek on the hill to face the league leading Indies. M. a nager Zidow will use either Majocha or Russu. Down at the Flats it will be Shimmy Balla against Forgiore or Rainey, with a possibility that Manager Steve Gonda will use Johnny "Feller" Carik on the hill, if it is a dark day as this youngster had a record of smoke. Manager Danny DeGennova will have either Tonsetic or Gunnnett on the knoll to face the St. Joes.

Up at the Lee Avenue Field, the Elder A. C. with Lamm or McIntyre for the East Siders and Paul Morrison or Huston for the Tigers. At the Ryanstown field, it will be the Civics against Ryanstown and the pitchers will probably be Shaw against Campbell or Owey.

MUST PLAY MATCHES

Fred Scheppke, chairman of the New Castle Church Golf league tournament, said today that all second round matches in the league championship tourney must be played not later than Thursday, Aug. 3. All first round matches are completed.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Line drives. . . Around Cleveland, they're saying Ossie Vitt is on his way out. Sooner than you may expect, Luke Sewell will be named to pilot the Indians. If Sewell does all right, he'll likely grab the '40 job.

The rollicking Cincy Reds have capped but two double-headers this season, both of them this week. Last Sunday they spilled the Phils and Thursday, the Bees bowed twice. . . Old Man Jinx has paid Jimmy Dykes another visit. This time Mike Kreevich, star outfielder, is out. He crashed against the concrete stands when he attempted to catch Ted Williams' long liner.

Besides being the only American league pitcher to bump off the Yanks three times this season, Emil "Dutch" Leonard, Washington ace flinger, is also the only full-blooded Belgian in the big show. . . Dominic DiMaggio, youngest of the famous "DiMags", is slated to become a New York Giant anytime now. The president of the San Francisco club can't make up his mind on a price tag. This is the only hitch in the deal. Dom is hitting .360.

A little of everything. . . Next year's 1940 national public links tournament will be staged in Detroit. A noted song writer is composing a new one, "Two-Ton-Tony", which he will dedicate to El Galen. . . The hardest thing in sports is a successful comeback. While this runs true to form in boxing, such is not the case in wrestling. Ed Strangler Lewis copped the world's heavyweight championship five times. . . Amherst waited 80 years to get ahead of Williams in baseball. The Lord Jeffs did it with a 6-3 victory in Cooperstown, N. Y. Their series started back in 1859. Up to the recent game, the teams were deadlocked at 16 wins apiece. . . Around Manhattan, Henry Armstrong "backers" are somewhat scarce. The boys all seem to like a bit of Lou Ambers.

Local sports shorts. . . After watching Henry Marshall patrol left field for the Erie Sailors, he gets our vote. He did everything but collect tickets. With a fair shake, the Hills-viller can't miss getting a chance in the big leagues. . . Mrs. Freda Nolan, this city, added more golf glory a couple of days ago. Paired with Bill Kramer in the invitational mixed foursome tourney at St. Clair, the couple came in with a 78 to win the event. . . Mike Budai, star right fielder for the Slovaks, put on a real hitting show a few nights ago. All he did was blast out a pair of triples and a double for a total of eight bases. . . Johnny Carik, Slovak star flinger, looks better than ever. By 1940, Carik will branch out in faster company. "Snag" Russell, one of the top baseball men in the city, is getting ready to name an all-star local team which will meet a star studded aggregation in Youngstown.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL.

Different sections of this countryside suffered very seriously from the storm of early this morning. Trees were uprooted, streams were above their usual water line and electrical service was stopped. But when we mention service... we must give full credit to the Pennsylvania Power company... they are on their toes and it isn't long before the juice is back in the stove and other outlets. There's no red tape and the like when you call the Power company. More power to them.

Today is the last day for a candidate to withdraw from the race... we doubt very much if any one will take the advantage. They will all enter into the race with all the pep they can muster Monday... some have already started, so they say... Do you know the duties of the different offices of the county and city? Do you know what particular qualities a man should have to fill these offices? We will attempt to give a viewpoint on these questions within the near future.

Market Trading Today Is Quiet

Typical Saturday Market Today, Trading Is Listless And Quiet

By LESLIE GOULD

International News Service

Financial Writer

NEW YORK, July 29.—The stock market slipped a little further today in a typical listless Saturday session. Price changes were narrow and trading extremely quiet. Sales were slightly above 200,000 shares.

There were few changes of note. Air Reduction dropped 2 points in two sales, while National Steel, U. S. Rubber and Libbey-Owens-Ford each lost a point before meeting support. Eastman Kodak gained as much.

A handful of stocks moved into new high ground, including Commonwealth Edison, United Gas Improvement and Du Pont.

Fractional declines were the rule elsewhere, as in steels, rails, copper, mail orders, motors and rail equipment.

NO SERIOUS STORM DAMAGE

Although the city and county were swept last night by a severe rain and electrical storm no serious damage was sustained by the Pennsylvania Power company, officials reported this morning.

When the storm approached the city a large number of linemen were called into service and they met every emergency.

Swinging Along Local Fairways

SYLVAN HEIGHTS LEAGUE

Iron City golfers jumped into first place in the Sylvan Heights League last evening at the Sylvan Heights course, when they took a well-earned 6-0 victory from Carnegie-Illinois Steel, dumping the latter from fourth place down into eighth place.

Iron City now leads Babs who held first place honors last week, by one point, and give promise of being the leading contender for second half honors, although the Babs boys will fight hard to take it away from them.

The city course golfers were hotter than the weather last night, and saw Joe Mazzeri of Reynolds, Summers and McCann establish a record for nine holes of golf, when he burned up the fairways with a 31 score, five under par for the course.

It is too bad that Joe, who is a fine golfer, could not have had time to play the other round, as he was well on the way toward an 18-hole record. Marty Segedi tied it last week with a 67 round.

Emil Grommes, Ted Lach and Art Cimini were also under par with rounds of 35, while James Gaine, Harry Toscano, Dom Dimico, Scott 36's; Toe Fenati, Bruce Headland, Louis Malls, had 37's; Hackett Kennedy, Ernest Smith, Walter Shook, Chuck Perrotta, Pete Dimico, had 38's; and A. Perry, Book, Pius, Priole, Segedi, Hahn and Flack had 39's.

Results of play showed: Iron City 6, Carnegie-Illinois Steel 0; New Castle News 4, Unions 2; Pennsylvania R. R. 3, Reynolds, Summers and McCann 3; Babs 3 1/2, Shelby Social 2 1/2, Saegertowns 3 1/2, Harlow Merchants 2 1/2.

CHURCH GOLF LEAGUE

First Presbyterian church golfers lead the New Castle Church league today by one point over the Methodist team, having 12 points to 11 for the runners-up. The Trinity team is in third place with 10 1/2 points. The rest of the teams stand as follows: St. Josephs 10, St. Marys 10, First Christians 9, Highland 8, Temple 6 1/2, Mahoning 6, First U. P. 5 1/2.

Medalists for the matches last Thursday night were: Joe Fisher and Bob Garland both with 37's, while in the 39 class came—Izzy Solomon, Mike Flack, Hack Kennedy and Dave Aston.

MAKES COURSE RECORD

Joe Mazzeri, of the Reynolds, Summers and McCann golf league, established a nine-hole record for the Sylvan Heights course Friday evening, when he shot a scorching 31, five under par for the nine holes, while playing in a Sylvan Heights League match.

Mazzeri just missed a double-eagle on the No. 2 par five hole, his second shot being inches from the cup. He had birdies on 4, 7, 8, and 9.

Mazzeri's card showed the following:

Par 454 435 434—36

Mazzeri 435 335 323—31

IS COMING GOLFER

Miss Ruth Smith, of West Pittsburg, who just took up golf late last summer, gives indications of developing into one of the finest lady golfers in this section.

Built along the lines of Patty Berg, she swings a mean driver and brassie, and as soon as she develops her short irons and putting, will be right down in the low figures.

CADDIES WIN MATCH

Sylvan Heights caddies, led by Ted Lach, defeated Ellwood City on the Sylvan Heights course, Tuesday by a score of 10 1/2 to 7 1/2.

The results were as follows:

Sylvan Heights—Lach, 79, 3 points; Snyder 82, 1 point; Mele 87, 2 points; Crobach 87, 1 point; Aluisia 87, 3 points.

Ellwood City—Vedika 84, 0 points; Ottaviano 80, 2 points; Taylor 85, 2 points; Gallati 88, 1/2 point; Presto 80, 3 points.

Benefit Games

Next Wednesday

Rocco P. Viggiano, president of the City Softball league announced today that all games next Wednesday, August 2, in the City League will be benefit games for the injured Jess Witkowski of the Class B league. Witkowski had the misfortune to break his leg in a recent game.

The collections taken up at all four games will be given to the Witkowski family to help with the hospital bill. The feature game will be the Rads and Nobils at the Rads field with first place at stake.

Do You Remember?

Compiled And Presented For Publication In The News By Fred B. Sankey, President Of Old Timers'
Day Association

Old Timers Day Cascade Park, Wednesday, August 16, 1939.

Farmers and Mechanics bank was a stock company organized in 1858, with Wm. Watson, president; Daniel H. Wallace, cashier, and Man-nash Henlein as vice president. When Colonel Wallace entered the army in 1861 as Lieutenant Colonel, it was merged into a private bank-ing house by Wm. Watson. Colonel Daniel H. Wallace married Rebecca Cunningham, daughter of R. W. Cunningham, and was the father of John S. Wallace, prominent in national masonic circles.

Walter D. Clark will be remem-bered as active in all civic affairs back in 1858, and was prominent in the insurance business up to 1921, when he sold his business to the McBride-Shannon Co.

John C. Wallace, born in 1859, prominent in masonic fraternities, had a drug store on Washington street and followed that business all of his life.

UNION TOWNSHIP
This township was erected from portions of Mahoning, Neshaunock, and Taylor townships, on December 10, 1859. It contains a little over nine square miles, or about 6000 acres, and is the next after Taylor, the smaller township in Lawrence county. Undoubtedly, the first white settlers within the present limits of Union township were Cornelius Hendrickson and his son Daniel, who came probably in 1798, and erected cabins on the Shenango river, one above and the other below, the present Washington street bridge. Cornelius Hendrickson, the old gentleman, was a practitioner of the healing art, without being a regular educated physician. He dealt in herbs and simple domestic remedies. He was known as Doctor Hendrickson.

Cornelius Hendrickson and son Daniel established a ferry during the year 1798 over the Shenango river at the west end of North street.

Among those who took a prominent part in the ranks of her mili-tary men in 1861 were Colonel Daniel Leasure; Col. Edward O'Brien, a hero of the Mexican war; Col. Daniel H. Wallace; Col. Oscar L. Jackson; Col. R. B. McComb; and others.

In 1862 a draft was ordered for this section, and Dr. J. H. M. Peebles was appointed examining sur-geon; Jacob Haus, Esq., draft com-missioner.

Dr. John McKinley started to practice medicine in Mt. Jackson about the time of the Civil war. In 1870 he built the McKinley block on the corner of Washington and Mercer streets. The McKinley & Haley drug store, probably the old-est store on Washington street, was established by Dr. McKinley, who successfully conducted it until 1895, when he took in Jno. B. Haley as a partner. In 1882 they started an-other store in New Wilmington with Mr. Haley as partner. In 1905 Mr. Haley left, and Wm. W. Frantz be-came associated with the business under the firm name of McKinley & Frantz and conducted it until a few years ago. It is now being con-ducted under the old name McKin-ley & Frantz. Dr. McKinley was the father of Rufus C. McKinley, and Mrs. Sarah McKinley Pooler of Tucson, Ariz.

Luther Woods a well known oil operator in Venango county came from Franklin and settled in New Castle. In 1872 he erected the Woods block on Washington street, and was active in the progress of the city. He was the father of Gertrude Woods, Mrs. H. C. Crocker, Mrs. S. L. Rhodes, and Luther Abbott Woods.

Jacob Quest was a member of the firm of Quest & Shaw, who oper-ated a foundry and machine shop here in 1860. Jacob Quest was the father of Joe Quest, a famous base-ball player, and of Ella Quest, who married Charlie Crawford.

Bridge Detours On U. S. Route 22

Detours have been arranged on Route 22 near Alexandria, Pa., ac-cording to B. N. Hanlon, manager of the New Castle Motor Club. The detours are occasioned by the re-cent destruction of the bridge in an accident.

Passenger detour is over 305 and a section of Pa. No. 8 and is four miles long, adding one mile. The truck detour starts at Huntingdon over No. 545 to Ennisville and then 305 to Alexandria. The detour is thirty-five miles long and adds twenty-two miles.

Fink Announces For City Council

Has Been Head Of Department
Of Accounts And Finance
Over Three Years

J. LEON FINK

To the Voters of the City of New Castle:

I desire to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for City Council on the Republican ticket.

In seeking reelection to this im-portant office, I wish to call your attention to the fact that I am now finishing my first term as a member of this body as Director of Accounts and Finance. This department was assigned to me when I took office due to my wide experience in ac-counting. I have ever strived to make this department one of the best managed in the state, and I believe I have been successful.

When first elected to this office, I had had little experience in mu-nicipal affairs, but during the last three and one half years in office I have at all times applied myself to the welfare of the city as a whole, and not to any particular section. The experience that I have gained in this time, now gives me a more thorough insight into municipal af-fairs, and on the strength of my past training and experience, I can assure the voters that they can expect me to carry on in the future to see that our people are not put to any greater expense in the gov-ernment of their city than is nec-essary. I am not unmindful of the fact that the nation, state, and municipalities have for a long time been passing through a readjust-ment period that has worked hard-ships on our people, but in spite of this I wish to call attention to the fact that New Castle is one of the best regulated and best managed municipalities in the State of Pen-nsylvania. It should be continued as such in every particular.

It is true, perhaps, that exceptions may have been taken to some of my actions, but that is to be expected in a City the size of New Castle but I am sincere when I say that my whole thought has been for the best interest of the city. I earnestly re-quest your due consideration of the record of my past three and one-half years and if given I feel con-fident of your full support and in-fluence.

Sincerely yours,
J. LEON FINK,
415 Boyles Avenue,
Second Ward.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Special Program For Union Service

Boy Scouts Of Troop Four To Conduct Program—John
Stump To Preach

Getting away from the usual pro-gram at the union church services in the Seventh Ward, Sunday night, a special event is being planned. Boy Scouts of Troop 4, will be in charge of this service.

The service will be in the Mahoning Methodist church, beginning at 7:45 o'clock. Congregations from the Methodist, Presbyterian and Christian churches in the ward will join for this meeting.

John Stump, son of Rev. A. M. Stump of St. John's Lutheran church, will deliver a special ser-mon. Highlight of the program will be the presentation of the charter to Troop 4.

RETURNS TO WORK
It was learned today that Donald Pete Reed, Mt. Jackson road, has again been able to return to work, having fully recovered from recent injuries.

Reed was seriously burned along one arm and side while at work several weeks ago.

ARM IS HEALING
Broken arm of Ernest Christy of North Cedar street is reported to be healing nicely now, having been set and treated by a physician.

Christy sustained the fractured arm in a peculiar fashion. While riding as a passenger in an automobile, he caught his arm between a telephone pole and the car when the machine was driven too close to the curb in rounding a corner.

YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE

News Briefs
From City Hall

Bicycle reported stolen by Ernest Kray from 408 1/2 Pine street was found yesterday by Herbert Sigel, 98 Riverview avenue, at the Croton dump, police reported this morning.

Ford coach, Pennsylvania license 9128, owned by C. B. Pearce, Slippery Rock, was reported stolen from in front of 330 Elm street.

Mrs. Agatha Andrews, resident of the Almira home, fell on a side-walk at 823 East Washington street and bruised her arm Friday, police were told.

When Matthew Shoaff, five, slipped from a relative's grasp and ran into the cartway in South Mill street, near Long avenue, he was knocked down by an auto operated allegedly by Eugene Czynski, 106 Ralph avenue, last night. The boy was taken to the New Castle hos-pital, where a laceration of a lip was closed by a surgeon.

Acting upon information furnish-ed last night, police ordered before Mayor Charles E. McGrath today a WPA employee who also does barber work. Today members of the fam-ily of another barber told his hon-orable the WPA worker-barber had not complied with the city ordinance governing opening and closing hours of barber shops. The mayor told the accused workman he must either use his home as a home or a barber shop, and referred the accusers to an alderman, providing they desired to prosecute.

Benjamin J. Lapinski, 327 Hillside avenue, Ellwood City, reported having parked his auto in Grove street, last night. The front window was broken. Several acts of vand-alism and thefts have been reported recently in this section. It is likely that police authorities will make extra efforts to apprehend the van-dals and thieves then prosecute them. Some stiff sentences might go a long way toward stopping the almost nightly practice.

Elmore Candidate For Prothonotary

Union Township Man Seeks Republican Nomination
For County Office

JAMES H. ELMORE

James H. Elmore, of Union Town-ship, today announces his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of prothonotary and clerk of courts of Lawrence county.

The office of prothonotary and clerk of courts is one of the impor-tant offices of the county. The proper conducting of the office re-quires great care in the recording, indexing, filing and preservation of legal papers. It is on the proper protection of these records that the rights and properties of the people largely rest. The fees of the office depend largely on the amount of business transacted and is in no way enhanced by the incumbent.

As a resident and property owner of Lawrence county, I recognize the necessity of preserving the instru-ments and as a taxpayer I appreciate the necessity of doing the work at the lowest cost, consistent with the proper conducting of the office. As clerk and salesman with the New Castle Notion company and other business houses, I received training that I feel has fitted me for the office to which I aspire. My whole life has been spent in Lawrence county and I have helped bear the burden and cost of maintaining the local government.

It is my hope that the Republican voters will investigate my record and qualifications for this office, to the end that I may obtain their support on September 12th, 1939.
